

It is very upsetting to see the direction that the media is taking in this country. In the past, TV & news media were assumed to take a neutral position of giving facts. Now we have partisan groups that own stations and newspapers and control, and slant, what the public sees and hears.